Motives of Life. BY PROF. DAVID SWING. 16mo. Price, $1.00.

"The work is remarkable for its simplicity, eloquence, earnest thoughts and sincere pleadings for what is good and best in life."—Evening Post, Hartford Conn.

"Here as everywhere, Prof. Swing writes with simplicity, the earnestness and the honesty which come of a sincere devotion to all that is best and noblest and purest in life and character."—N. Y. Evening Post.

Life of Mozart. Translated from the German of Louis Nohl, by JOHN J. LALOR. 12mo. With Portrait, Price, $1.25.

"Among its other excellences, it is a model of beauty. This has not been secured at the expense of its style, or of its fullness as to personal record, the former being clear, elegant and unambitious, and the latter a rounded and sympathetic outline of the incidents of Mozart's brief and checkered life. * * The author adds to literary tastes, the familiarity with music which is especially desirable in the biography of a musical genius like Mozart."—Harper's Monthly.

The Story of Religion in England. BY REV. BROOKE HERFORD. 12mo. Price, $1.75.

"It is a noble book; full of delicious and wholesome juices, and charged with a fine aroma. Mr. Herford has indeed a famous story to tell. * * * The book will be welcome to all readers who are generous enough to be just to all parties, and reverent enough to trace the hand of Providence through all the strange conflicts of humanity."—Christian Register, (Boston).

Tales of Ancient Greece. BY THE REV. SIR G. W. COX, BART., M.A. Trinity College. 12mo. Extra gilt, Price, $1.50.

"Admirable in style, and level with a child's comprehension. These versions might well find a place in every family."—The Nation, (New York).

"The book is a scholarly production, and a welcome addition to a department of literature that is thus far quite too scantily furnished."—Tribune, (Chicago).

A Short History of France; FOR YOUNG PEOPLE.

BY MISS E. S. KIRKLAND. 12mo. Extra gilt, Price, $1.50.

"Miss Kirkland has composed her 'Short History of France' in the way in which a history for young people ought to be written; that is she has aimed to present a consecutive and agreeable story, from which the reader can not only learn the names of the kings and the succession of events, but can also receive a vivid and permanent impression as to the characters, modes of life, and the spirit of different periods."—The Nation, (New York).

Tales from Foreign Tongues. 'Comprising "MEMOIRIES," (MAX MULLER), "GRAZIELLA," (LAMARTINE), "MARIE," (PUSHKIN), and "MADELLENE," (SANDEAU). Price per volume, $1.25. In neat box, per set, $5.00.

The series of four volumes forms, perhaps the choicest addition to the English language that has been made in recent years. The sales of these beautiful and select translations are very large, and we are constantly bringing out new editions.
